As an expression of our appreciation of a true Christian life and as a recognition of the value of the faithful teaching which builds Christian character we, the Sophomore Class, dedicate this volume of The Maple Trail
to our dean,
MR. O. R. MOSLEY

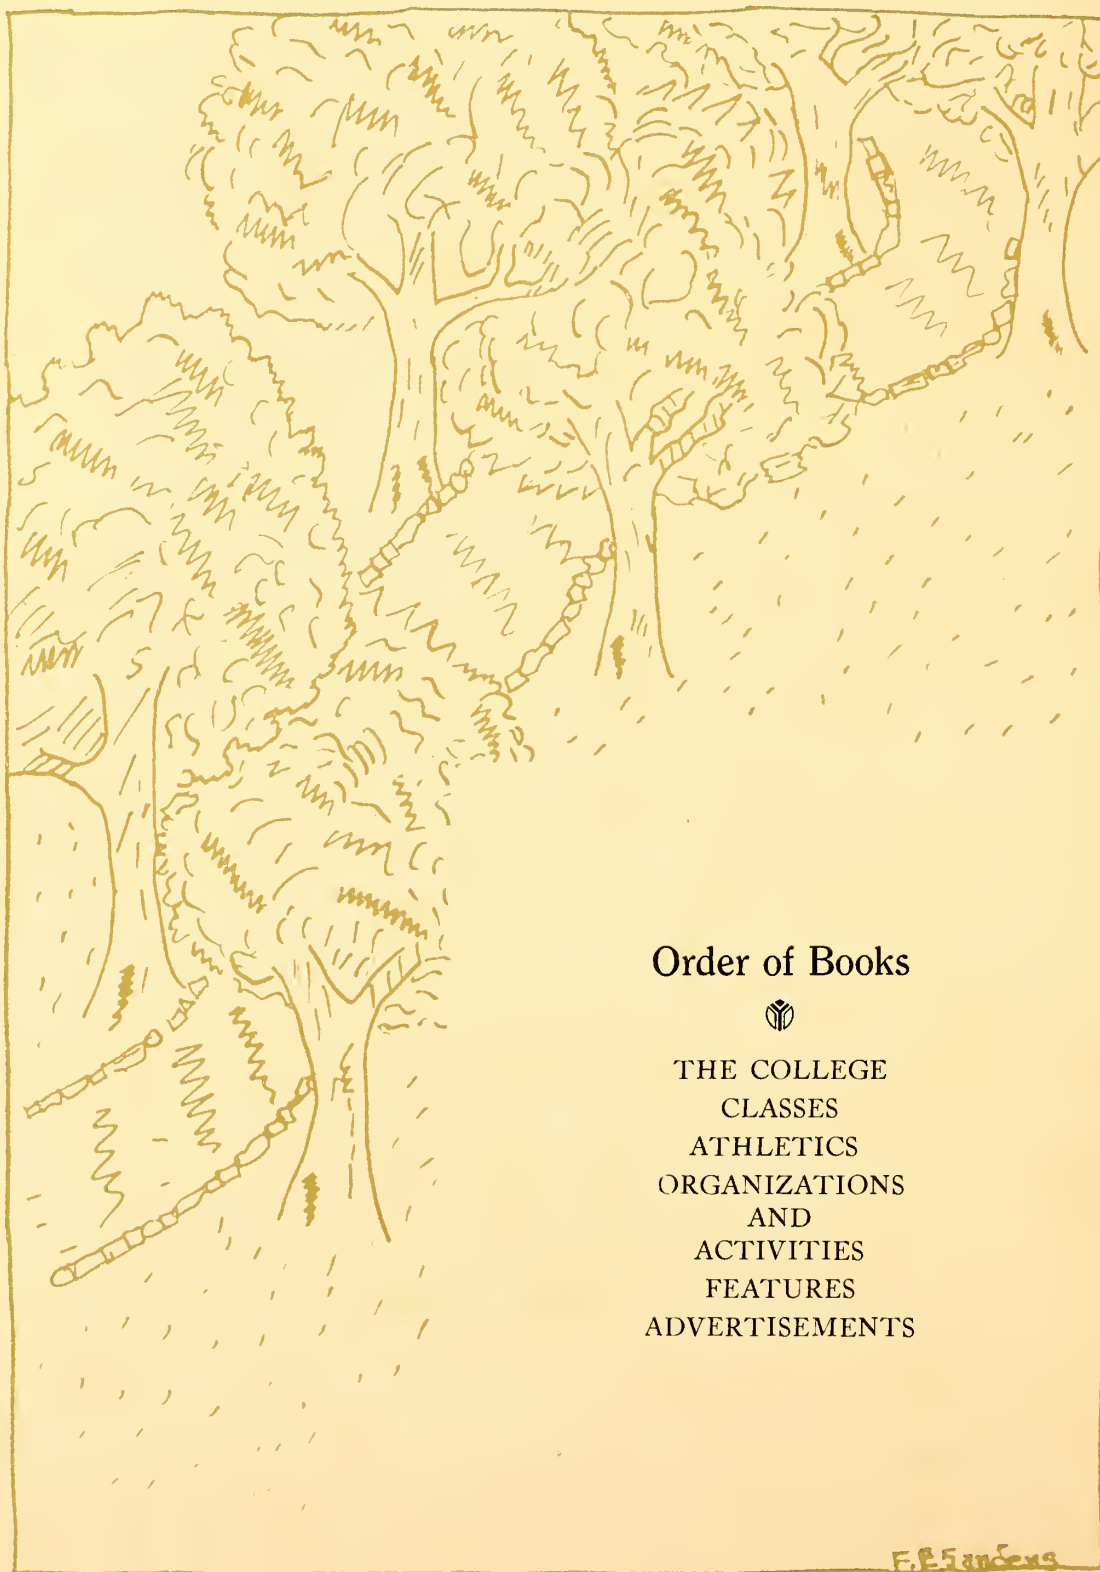

FOREWORD

WHEN, in the course of time, we are carried far from our Alma Mater may we find in this volume of The Maple Trail for 1929 bright memories of the happy years spent together, and may we, as we turn its pages, re-consecrate ourselves to the spirit and ideals of Campbellsville College.

The Maple Trail

*Shaking their heads in the wayward breeze,
Sheltering the path that gleams below,
Or skyward lifting their leafy arms,
Artistically the maples grow;
Sheltering a path that leads to a Shrine,
Sheltering all who would follow,
For some try timidly the way at first,
And some go light as a swallow.*

*Some try timidly the way at first,
But bolder grow on the morrow,
Knowing the path shall lead them back
Without regret or sorrow;
Lead each back to the world again
A womanly woman and a manly man,
Ready for service here or there,
Part of a whole and part of a plan.*

*And this the pride of the Maple Trail
Sung in the green of her guardsmen's foliage,
"Mine is the path that leads youth on
To the door of Campbellsville College;
And soon they'll find or far or near,
No other Shrine of Knowledge
Has a path so fair as the path that leads
To the door of Campbellsville College."*

MR. WARREN F. JONES
PRESIDENT OF CAMPBELLVILLE COLLEGE

Mr. Jones became president of Campbellsville College when the Class of 1929 was seniors in high school. The Class feels that it has been most fortunate in having these years of close association with him. His kindness, sympathy, and willing service has endeared him to each one of the class. The influence of Mr. Jones' life and work upon the members of the Class of 1929 will endure throughout time.

ATHLETES

FOOTBALL SQUAD

BOB BORDERS

Captain, Center and Fullback

A hundred and ninety five pounds of bone and muscle, and with this a love of the game, all of which made Bob a great power in the line. He is a great football player, and we regret that he will not be with us again next year. We all wish him well in whatever he may do.

SAM HORD

Quarterback

Sam has the Do or Die attitude which is bound to make one a success. He has been a great success as quarterback for the Panthers, and was one of the outstanding men on the squad. His judgment in calling signals was almost uncanny. He is fast on his feet, and hard to stop at all times. Sam is well liked by all no wonder he is married.

COACH L. C. HENDERSON

Coach L. C. Henderson, an outstanding athlete from the University of Mississippi, has shared three years of successful coaching with Campbellsville College. Thru natural ability and a wide experience in coaching he has been able to produce winning teams each year. He creates an atmosphere such as to instill into a team that indefinite Something which make men fight for their Alma Mater.

We can pay him no greater honor than to say that he is a typical man and a genuine clean sport.

EARL REXROAT

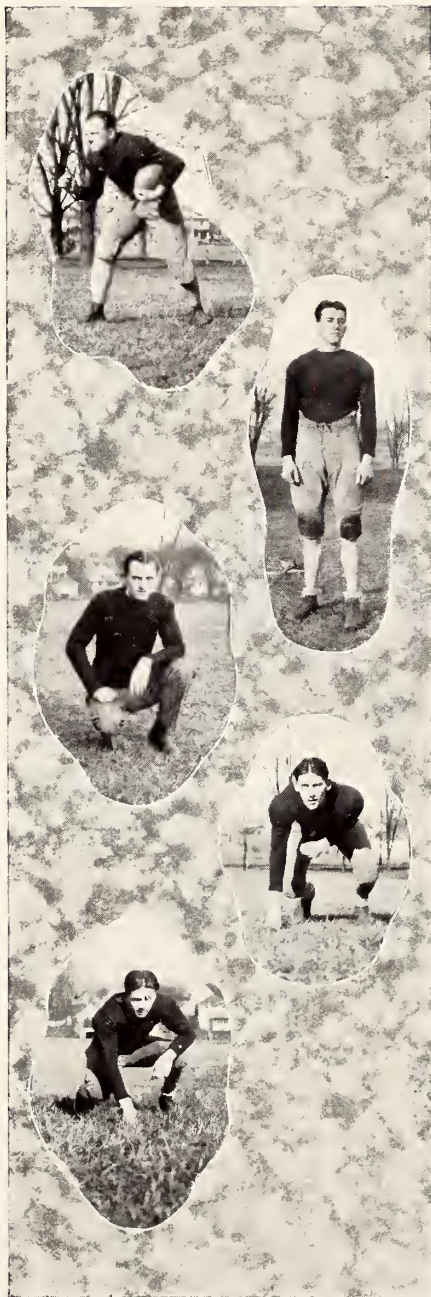

Tackle

Rex came to us two years ago having never played a game of football. He has been a very valuable man to the team. He is wholly unselfish in his efforts, and he is always in there giving his very best. He is a fine fellow to work with, and every one likes him both on and off the field. He does not return next year—our loss.

RALPH GARDNER

Tackle

The game was new to Ralph, but he was playing like a veteran at the close of the season. He improved in his playing more than any other member of the squad. He is well liked by every one, easy to coach, and will bear watching next year. His weight is a point in his favor, tipping the scales at 185. We hope that he will return next year.

HUGH COLVIN

Halfback and End

Hugh is a valuable man to any squad. He can play the role of utility very nicely, putting up a good game in any position. Being extremely light, weighing only one hundred and forty pounds, places him at a great disadvantage, but his speed and fight greatly offset that. We are glad that he has one more year with us.

CRIT HARMON

Tackle

Here is a fellow who got started on his athletic career rather late in life, but in spite of that he has made wonderful progress. Crit gave his best for the team at all times. He is the type of fellow that will do any team good to have around. We don't know whether his wife will let him play now or not. He has another year in school.

BRUCE WAYNE

"RED"

Guard

Bruce, though a freshman in high school, has completed two years of stellar ball for the Garnet and Gray. He has several more years with us and we hope that he will stay them all. We believe that he will be a real star before his school career closes, if he only aspires to such. He sometimes wonders why certain teams are scheduled, but we hope he gets over that some day.

DICK SANDERS

Guard

Though light, "DICK" has played two years of monogram ball for the Panthers. He is a fighter from the start to the finish. We hope that he will enter college next year and will carry on for us on the gridiron as well as in his scholastic work.

CECIL RISEN

Halfback

Inability to practice regularly kept Cecil from being a real star this year. He is fast and runs hard. With these qualities and a determination to make good, any back-field man will sooner or later be a great asset to his team. We are sorry Cecil couldn't stay in school all the year. We hope he will again enroll with us.

FOOTBALL SQUAD

HARRY SMITH

Halfback

Harry is light and he had not had any experience, yet he made a very dependable man. He has plenty of nerve and loves football—two very important factors for any successful player to possess. He has one more year, and with a few obstacles removed we predict he will be one of our best.

MARSHALL LYON

Center

In playing his first year Marshall did very creditable work. He got into but few games, but we look for him to be the regular center next year. He has the will and the determination that we feel sure will get him there. Work and plenty of it will make this fellow.

BUFORD KNIFLEY

End

If hard work can make a football player Buford will be one of the best in the land someday. He has improved steadily in his playing for the last two years, and we feel that he is graduating a little too soon, otherwise he would become a real star. His weight is one of his greatest handicaps.

BRANDFORD MURLEY

Fullback

Murley's inability to get in the peak of condition held him back all season. He can run low and hard which makes him hard to tackle and stop. He has the qualities necessary for a real fullback. We hope that he will stay in school another year.

EDWARD DICKEY

End

Sickness and a bad ankle kept Edward from being at his best most of the season, but with another year to play our prediction is that he will bear watching. He has great possibilities and is of a temperament that makes working with him a pleasure. By taking on a little more weight, and with Sprowles on the other end, the wing positions should be well cared for next year.

LEE SPROWLES

End

"Spibb" is recognized as the hardest tackler on the team. It didn't take the opposing quarterback long to find out there was trouble on hands when starting his way. Though weighing one hundred and fifty pounds only, he is a great little football player. With Lee taking the game a little more seriously he has the making of one of the best players in this section.

MAPLE TRAIL 1924

FOOTBALL SQUAD

Football Season 1928

With the opening of school September 11th, the next most natural thing was that of getting football practice under way. On the 12th, some twenty-five fellows reported, which represented the best manhood that Campbellsville College affords.

The prospects for a winning team were very poor at the outset, the squad being composed very largely of men with one year's experience or none at all, which is a big problem for any individual or group of individuals to solve. Those of little experience, around which the team had to be constructed were: Borders, Captain; Rexroat, Sprowles, Colvin, Wayne, Risen, Murley, Harmon, Sanders and Knifley. Of the new men, Hord, Dickey, Smith, Gardner, Lyon and Burkholder were the best. Everyone both old and new on the squad soon found himself in great earnestness in trying to build for Campbellsville College her best team. The spirit of co-operation and old fight that characterizes all the Garnet and Gray teams was soon running high and it was then becoming apparent, that the school would be represented by a bunch of real fellows on the gridiron for the season of '28.

Borders soon drew the center assignment, being very ably supported by Rexroat, Gardner, and Harmon, in the tackle positions, with Wayne and Sanders in the guard role, and Sprowles, Dickey and Knifley holding down the end positions. In the backfield Hord was soon found to be the man around which the others would work. Early in the season he proved a good field general, and in many cases bore the brunt of carrying the ball, being helped by Murley and Risen—which composed a good trio of ball "toters" a trio that was hard to stop at all times, with Smith and Colvin in the blocking positions—which are essential to any offensive style of football.

The first game on October 5th—with St. Joseph's College in Bardstown was a typical early season game, fumbles being the high light of the struggle so far as we were concerned. Our boys learned much about football though, and in most every case as a man or team we profited by it. This was evident in the next game—two weeks later when Lebanon came to the local field. Lebanon had decisively beaten a much crippled team of ours the year before, so the Panthers went into this game with a revenge uppermost in their minds. After sixty minutes of real football, we were crowned the winner, by a point margin.

The following week found us on foreign soil again. This time in Springfield. Starting with a savage offensive attack two touchdowns were scored in the first quarter, and then by playing a defensive game we were on the long end of a 13-12 victory. This being a very hard fought game throughout as the score would indicate.

On November 2nd the Kentucky School for the Deaf came to Campbellsville for the third time in three years. The two previous years we had been beaten once and tied by this crowd, as they always have a good team. At the last minute some of our men were declared ineligible due to grades, but after a great "pep" rally this handicap was overcome and spirit and "scrap" caused the Garnet and Gray to run roughshod over the "Dummies." The victory being the fourth straight win. By the time the Dummies had been disposed of everyone was beginning to pull for an all victory season which was quite possible, yet there remained two games on the schedule—both to be played away from home. The Eastern Kentucky State Teachers' College Freshman threw a bomb into the machine tho! On November 16th in Richmond we were defeated by two touchdowns. In this game we were outweighed several pounds to the man—and the score was against us, but the Panthers outfought their opponents in every department of the game. One or two very bad breaks proved to be the deciding factors and just the margin for victory.

On Thanksgiving Day, in a sea of water and mud besides being in Columbia, we met and were defeated by the Lindsey-Wilson College team.

The season was successful in every way, financially, development physically, development morally, and in terms of games won and lost, etc. We are only hoping for more men and men with a little experience, yet the same spirit of fight and stick-to-it-tive-ness will put us thru; the 1929 season.

With such men as Kirtley, Bailey and others from the high school squad coming up—we hope for a greater team next year.

Basketball Season 1928-1929

With the football as history, and with the mud-cleets, headgears, and such, put aside after Thanksgiving Day, little time was lost in getting the four basketball squads in action. On December 2 the call was sounded. From the forty-five boys and girls who responded to this call the four teams were selected. In the two college teams there were very few of the old players, so it was evident that new faces would very largely represent the college department.

The graduation of Owen Jeffries and Marshall Marcum, and the failure of Captain Grider to return until mid-year left the boys' team in a much weakened condition. The same thing was true of the girls' team, Captain Sanders being the only player of last year that had returned. Practically all of the new members were of the ambitious type, but without experience. Dickey, Colvin, and Peyton were the only ones that had seen service.

The girls' team, composed of Captain Sanders, Gaunt, Miller, Gabbert, N. Bertram F. Bertram, and Elrod, worked into a very good team before the season was over, winning as many games as they lost. Among the defeats was one at the hands of the strong Eastern Kentucky Normal, but only by a few points.

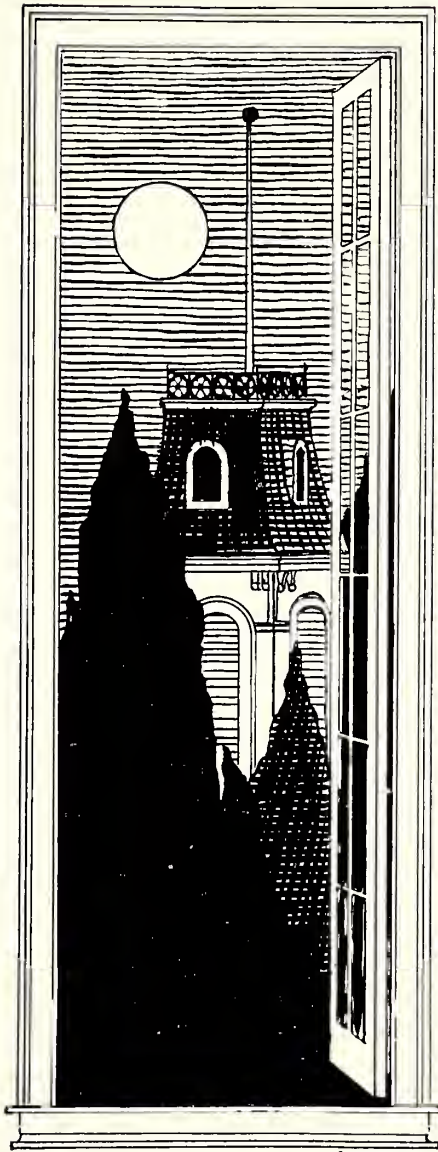

The Panthers were not so successful in terms of victories, as they lost more games than they won, yet they showed steady improvement throughout the season and some of the most awkward and the greenest at the outset were playing good ball at the close of the season. Acting as Captain, Rexroat was the bulwark of the team for the first half of the season, then came Grider. By this time Colvin and Dickey were going much better, so with these four the Garnet and Gray had a fairly good working quartet.

The high school teams were the bright lights of our basketball this season. Though the boys' team was composed of all new men except the two veterans, Captain Bailey and Kirtley, the new fellows, Faulkner, Pardo, Blackaby, Banta, Coakley, and Newcomb, worked in very nicely. This combination gave to the college the best team she has had for a number of years. Fifteen games were Won and Seven were Lost. Six of the present team will be lost through graduation. We are wondering what we shall do next year.

The high school girls' team was the only team of veterans in the school, being composed of Captain Stiles, Wells, Banta, Harding, and the new ones—Helton, Ferguson, Mitchell, Wilson, Smith, and Wood. Of the regulars Stiles and Helton were forced from the line-up early in the season by "flu" complications, but in spite of this the team was victorious in Twelve of the Sixteen games. Had this piece of hard luck not hit our team we feel sure that we should have represented this district and region in the state tournament, as we had beaten the team that did win before our two players had to stop. With all the team returning next year except Banta, who graduates, we hope for better results and believe that we shall get them.

The season's summary for all teams was Thirty victories and Nineteen defeats.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS

Ministerial Association of Campbellsville College

The ministers of Campbellsville College have a desire to be of service to the College as a whole, and to each individual. The group wishes the College to be able to depend on it for its full support in making the Campus life more Christian, and the atmosphere better; and that each individual may feel in every member a real friend.

The Association has weekly meetings with varied programs for the purpose of further developing the individual members; each month the Taylor County Ministers' Association meets with the College Ministers, thereby making the fellowship richer and the desires greater. Several prominent speakers have come our way during this present season.

Young Women's Association

The Y. W. A. was organized again this fall, and again Miss Ruth Arnett was selected as the Counselor. Many things have arisen to hinder the advancement of this organization as it should advance. At Christmas the girls were interested in playing Santa Claus to some mountain children. Quite a nice box was sent to these less fortunate children. It seems that there should be a place in our program for the Y. W. A. and we sincerely hope we can do something to increase the interest next year.

The B. S. U.

The B. S. U. is doing better work than at any time in its history. The attendance has been good all year, and the programs are interesting. Four of our members attended the meeting in Georgetown. They returned enthusiastic over the work of the organization. Mr. Clifford Hutchinson, one of our ministerial students, is president. He is capable, interested, and always present. The group captains have been faithful in preparing interesting and helpful programs.

The Sophomore's Farewell

*Each Sophomore has learned to love,
Since he has lived among us,
The spirit of The Maple Trail,
Which ever hovers o'er us.*

*And now that it's time for leaving,
We, each one, without fail,
Wish that we might still follow
The dear old Maple Trail.*

*Here, through days of work and play,
We've proved this spirit true;
Happy memories of The Maple Trail
Will for ever each life imbue.*

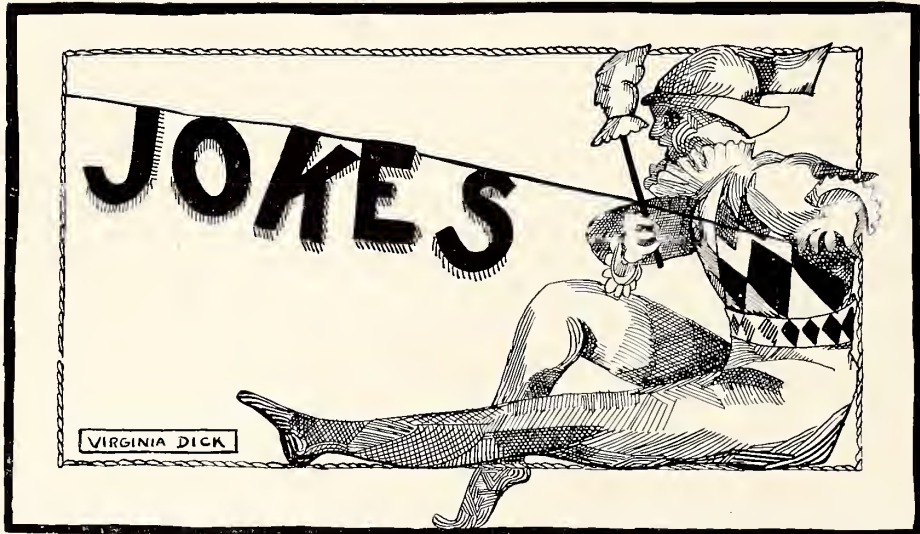

*We love this spirit of the school,
Oh, may it never fail!
May it ever steadfast abide
In the heart of The Maple Trail.*

JOKES

Mr. Jones: "Young men, I realize your most difficult problem in college is choosing the right girl to marry."

Mr. Grider (aside): "He has funny ideas as to who does the choosing."

Mary Alice: "What is R.S.V.P.?"

Mary Duvall (at the radio): "Either Denver or San Francisco I don't remember which."

Mr. Luckett: "What is public sentiment?"

"Rex": "Love making on the campus."

Wedding bells are a single man's curfew.

Lucille: "Frances, what is a cure for love at first sight?"

Frances: "Second sight."

When youth calls to youth it makes a lot of extra work for the telephone company.

What can't be cured one should be careful not to catch.

Boys in Graves' room: "We will be good if you will let us stay. We won't talk one bit."

Graves who was trying to study: "No, you won't. You will be talking every other word."

MAPLE TRAIL

MISCELLANEOUS SNAPS

A Vision

This morning, as in slow and meditative steps, I wended my way along The Maple Trail toward the home of the Garnet and Gray, my attention was suddenly arrested by the early morning breeze lispings thru the branches of the great maple trees in low and gentle whispers. At first I thought 'twas only the grumbling of the passing winds at being so unduly disturbed and hindred in their hurried flight; but upon closer observation, as my attention became more acute, as my thoughts became more concentrated, as my interest became more intent, I clearly saw that, instead of the supposed grumbling, the gentle breeze was delivering in ethereal language the high and lofty and noble ideals for which Campellsville College has stood from the very hour of her birth. In response to each low whisper, some tiny twig with an indellible impression would record the worthy message in order that all who might pass that way, and would but pause to look up, should know the true spirit of The Maple Trail as incorporated therein.

With a deepened interest and with aroused emotions, I determined to know of this great spirit. I lifted my eyes. I read. There in exquisite beauty as though written by the hand of an artist, appeared these terms; service for God toward mankind; love for the beautiful and the good in literature, in art, yea, in every thing; untainted honor, unswerving loyalty, strength and purity of character; patriotism for one's country; and Christian education and all that includes. And then glaring in the light of the morning sun there blazed forth in shining, flashing letters this great challenge:—It is a great thing to die for a noble ideal, but is a far greater thing to live for one.

My thoughts had turned to deeper thoughts. My reasoning had now become productive. "Surely", said I, "An institution with such ideals, and with a student body striving toward their attainment, by the help of God, could never be forced to lay down her arms by any power whether on the earth or under the earth. Such a spirit is unconquerable. It knows no defeat. Such a spirit is immortal. It lives on and on for ever.

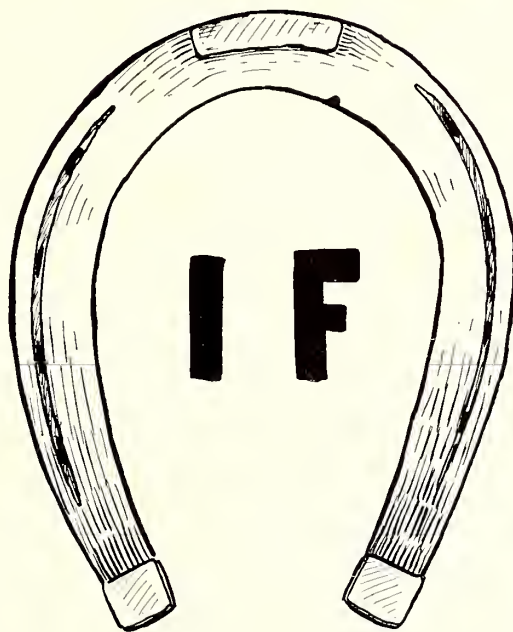

As for me, never in the years to come shall my eyes drink of the beauty of the pages of the College Annual of '29 except these ideals of the dear old Alma Mater shall vividly present themselves again to me; for

When I am old and my hands are weary,
When my eyes are void of sight,
Still this spirit will be present
To guide me through the darksome night.
The ideals of the Alma Mater,
High and lofty, can not fail;
For they are spirits undying,
The spirit of The Maple Trail.

IN compiling this volume of The Maple Trail we have endeavored to edit a book which faithfully portrays the various activities of the campus life, the character of our student body, and, most of all, the spirit which permeates every person and every thing within the walls of Campbellsville College.

We hope that we have not failed. The only reward that we desire is the hearty cooperation and the unqualified approval of the faculty and student body.
